

2022 APPLIED INFORMATICS INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE (AiIC)

18 - 19 MAY 2022 | VIRTUAL CONFERENCE

Digital Innovation in Applied Informatics during the Pandemic

2022 Applied Informatics International Conference (AiIC) has had huge success in the past conferences. The AiIC Premier (AiIC2019) was held on a beautiful island, that is Penang, Malaysia. Due to Covid-19 outbreak, AiIC2020 has been conducted as virtual conference and it was another success story. This conference was halted temporarily when we had to call off AiIC2021 due to vast uncertainties caused by the lockdown and the declaration of emergency in the country. We are devastated by the pandemic. The damage caused by the pandemic is catastrophic. We are now calling for research in Applied Informatics to solve problems caused by the Covid-19 outbreak. Hence, the upcoming AiIC2022 will be held virtually again for researchers to confer their research outcomes, open issues, and solutions surrounding the pandemic.

TOPICS OF INTEREST

Submitted papers should be related, but are not limited to the areas stated below:

- Crisis Informatics
- Pandemic Informatics
- Data-driven Innovations for Pandemic
- Software Development during Pandemic
- Digital Innovation in Information Systems
- Information Technology in Communications
- Big Data Analytics & Applications
- Knowledge Management
- Software Agents
- Artificial Intelligence Applications
- Health Informatics
- Community Informatics
- Educational Informatics
- Internet of Things (IoT) Applications
- Quantum Information Environment
- Green Computing

SUBMISSION

Submissions must be original and have not been submitted or published elsewhere. All submissions will undergo single-blind peer review process by at least 2 independent reviewers. Papers of 4 - 6 pages must be submitted through the EasyChair Conference System. Upon acceptance, at least one author must be registered for the conference in order to present their paper. All accepted papers will be submitted to IEEE Xplore Digital Library.

Manuscript template: <https://www.ieee.org/conferences/publishing/templates.html>

#IEEE reserves the right to exclude a paper from distribution after the conference, including IEEE Xplore® Digital Library, if the paper is not presented by the author at the conference.

We hope that AiIC could connect researchers and practitioners from academia as well as the industry to translate applied informatics research into plausible digital solutions. Applied Informatics is a multidisciplinary research field that could significantly impact the community and society through information systems and technology advancement. In this time, Applied Informatics research and innovations have become more relevant and significant in combating the Covid-19 outbreak and dampening the damage caused by the pandemic. Prevention and mitigation are now imminent. Therefore, the conference committee has set the theme for AiIC2022 as: 'Digital Innovation in Applied Informatics during the Pandemic'. Looking forward to seeing you at AiIC2022!
